Notes for William Spooner:

The first Spooner ancestor of which we have documented lineage was William Spooner, who came from Leyden, Holland early in 1637 with (it is presumed) his widowed Mother, Ann, and brother, Thomas. On their arrival in this country they seperated, Ann and Thomas settled in Salem, and William settling first in the little Colchester settlement and later in New Plymouth. It is beleived that William was only 15 when he came to America, and to pay for his passage, he was indentured to John Holmes a well-to-do citizen of New Plymouth, in the colony of Massachusetts. Within the year, John Holmes sold William's indenture to John Coombs, a printer and also well-to-do citizen of New Plymouth. The terms of this indenture stressed that John Coombs provide William Spooner with "one comely suit of apparell for holy days, and one suit for working days, twelve bushels of indian wheat and a good servicable muskett, bandaliers and sword fitt for service". William Spooner must have served his master well, for upon the death of John Coombs prior to 1645, William Spooner was entrusted with the administration of his master's estate and the custody of his children. Mrs. Coombs decided to return to England shortly after the death of her husband and left William in charge of everything, including her children. So, at a very early age William was a family man and had the care and responsibility of a lot of property. With John Coomb's help, William Spooner had been able to buy a piece of property, and he bought more land in Plymouth and the vicinity in 1658 and 1662. On June 6, 1654 he was appointed "Surveyor of Highways". He served on the "Grand Enquest" in 1657 and 1666. In 1660 he moved to a new settlement at Acusgnet in the Dartmouth purchase. He along with 35 other colonists, founded the town of Dartmouth in June 1664 and he spent the remainder of his life near there. Because William Spooner served as surveyor and was a landholder in the colonies before 1700, his decendents are eligible to belong to the organization, "Colonial Dames of the Seventeenth Century". and because he was one of the founders of Dartmouth, his decendents are eligible for the organization "Daughters of Founders and Patriots". William Spooner was married twice, first to Elizabeth Partridge, by whom he had only one son, John. She died in 1648 and William married second Hannah Pratt, a daughter of Joshua Pratt, who was a "First Comer", having come to America on the "Ann" in 1623, and was allotted land among the "Old Comers". Joshua Pratt was a freeman and a constable in Plymouth, Where his widow, Bathsheba administered upon his estate October 6, 1656. He too was one of the original 36 purchasers of Dartmouth. William and Hannah Spooner had 8 children and we are decendents of two of them, Samuel and Isaac. All through the Spooner family we find much intermarrying In fact, one Adam Spooner was called "Great-Uncle Grandad" by his grandchildren. William Spooner died in Acusnet, Mass. in March 1684, leaving a lengthy will.

Notes for Walter Spooner:

In 1741, Walter's father, by standing surety for a brother-in-law, was obligated to give up his inherited farm near the present Friend's meeting-house at Acushnet. A tract of uncleared land was purchased on the "Long Plain" so called, now in Acushnet, on the borders of Rochester. At nineteen years old, Walter helped to clear an acre of ground to erect a hulse, which is still standing. Another house which he built in later years, and which was Walter's family residence, is also standing nearby. Walter's first public occupation was as Selectman of the town of Dartmouth in 1759; he held this office for thirteen consecutive years, as well as subsequent periods. In 1761, he was chosen a Representative to the General Court, and continued that role for nine years. In 1769, being a member of the Council of the Providence, his name, along with with Bowdoin, Hancock and Otis, was submitted for a seat on the Council but his was rejected by Governor Bernard: in 1770 he was admitted to the Council and held his seat for seventeen years. Any history of our Revolutionary period will show how important were the duties of the Councilors (twenty eight in number) during these year"; and the records of the proceedings of the Council prove that Walter was especially trusted and active. In his turn, he acted as President of the Council while it was the supreme executive authority in the Province. He was one of the Councilors who took their seat in the first Provincial Congress of Massachusetts in December 1774 in place of those arbitrarily appointed by the King in defiance of the Charter. The Provincial Congress governed until the adoption of the State Constitution in 1780.

Among the special trusts which he fulfilled, one which took him outside the Province was, in June, 1775. he was chosen chairman of a committee of three sent by the Massachusetts Legislature to Lake Champlain to inquire into the importance of holding Ticonderoga and Crown Point. They were to also review the method by which post should be maintained and the spirit, capacity and conduct of Col. Benedict Arnold, then commander at Crown Point, If they found anything improper, they were to order Col. Arnold's immediate return to Massachusetts. Arnold is said to have been highly indignant at these instructions,

Notes for Zoath Spooner:

Zoath is probably the most colourful ancestor we have and surely he led a FULL life. Apparently he enjoyed all the pleasures and vices life had to offer, yet lived to be 104. Zoath was a very odd name and when he went to Georgia, it was spelled every which way but right. In the records of Georgia you can find his name spelled Zoeth, Zoah, Zore, Soar, Lore, and many times the writer couldn't begin to spell it, so they just wrote "Mr.". Family tradition tells us that he always hated his name and would not allow any of his children or grandchildren to be named for him. He was in his early teens when he was left an orphan. According to probate records in Bristol County, Mass. Wesson Tallman qualified as guardian of Zoath Spooner April 26, 1773 and on December 16, 1778 Nathaniel Spooner, uncle of the minor, was appointed his guardian. As soon as he was old enough Zoath went into the army and fought in the American Revolution. He was a soldier in the company of Capt. Daniel Drake, Col. Drury's Regiment, sent by order of the general Court to North River June 30, 1781. Descendents of Zoath are eligible for the Daughters of the American Revolution on his service.

Nathaniel Spooner, Zoath's uncle had been a seafaring man, as had been many other members of the Spooner family for generations. Zoath took to the sea after the war and came south, sailing up the Savannah River. Early research of this area's records reveal several men by the name of Spooner in the Savannah area, but only Zoath stayed in the south. We find a deed recorded September 9, 1786 in the records of Bristol Co., Mass. from Zoath Spooner of Dartmouth, Mass., MARINER, to Nathaniel Spooner for some of the property he had inherited from his father. On November 14, 1787 he sold another piece of property to Gameliel Bryant and this deed stated Zoath Spooner was of New Bedford, Mass. Then on March 7, 1791, Zoath Spooner of the County of Burke, State of Georgia, sells his final piece of property inherited from his father to Samuel Perry, Jr., This deed was signed in Savannah. Thus we prove how Zoath happened to settle in the south. Zoath took up residence first in Burke, Co. Georgia and later in Screven County. It is not known whether he was married in those early years in Georgia nor actually how many wives he had, but from the census records, we gather he had more than one wife and a number of children. We know he was married to Katren Duncan by Feb. 27, 1796, because we find a deed from Andrew Duncan of Screven Co., Georgia, conveying to his daughter, Katren Spooner, 100 acres. "Her husband, Zoar Spooner, agrees to take same". Zoath was then at least 33 years old, so he may have had an earlier wife. At any rate, his oldest child was born November 17, 1798 and he named him Joseph after his father. Zoath and Katren also had the following known children: Elizabeth, Adam, Richard, William and Joshua. It is believed that Kathren died about 1812 or possibly when Joshua was born. We find the following deeds in Screven Co. On October 21, 1812, Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan of Screven Co., Ga. deeded to her son-in-law, Zoar Spooner "in consideration of the love, good will and affection which I have and do bear towards my son-in-law, Zoar Spooner of the same state and county, one negro fellow, 8 head of stock cattle, 17 head of hogs, all her household furniture and her crop now on hand. Since she did not mention her daughter, Katren, she is presumed deceased. On the same date Elizabeth Duncan deeded to her granddaughter, Elizabeth Spooner, of the same state and county, a certain bay horse called Tom, and 1 cow and calf. Elizabeth Spooner was the oldest daughter of Zoath and Katren Spooner and apparently her grandmother Elizabeth Duncan's namesake. It is reasonable to believe if Katren had still been living, her mother, Elizabeth Duncan, would have mentioned her in the place of, or at least with, Zoath Spooner in the first deed. Zoath's next set of children were: Rebecca, Deborah, Tabitha, and James. They were born between 1816 and 1825. Then he married his last wife, Nancy, some 40 years his junior. In the 1850 census of Decatur Co., Ga. We find "Mr" Spooner, age 90 years old, with his wife Nancy, age 50, Debby, age 30, Caleb, age 20, Nancy age 18, Martha age 16, and Mary age 14. John age 12, is also listed but we know he was the natural son of Zoath's daughter Deborah. In Zoath's will he "Left all to Nancy" and does not mention any children, so we do not know for sure that Caleb, Nancy, Martha, and Mary were his by his wife, Nancy, but they might have been. Zoath Spooner was pictured as being a giant of a man, 6 feet 5 in. tall and weighing 240 lbs. who was famous for his abilities as a hunter, trapper, indian fighter, frontiersman, pioneer, and American Patriot. There are stories of Zoath stalking deer with the lithe silence of an indian in the Savannah River swamplands, and after killing a deer, being able to toss it over his shoulder and carry it some 5 or 6 miles to his home without fatigue. There are also stories of his being the nemesis of the "Florida Scouts" in the 1800-1815 period. The "Florida Scouts" were Tories and British sympathizers who moved into, or were driven into Florida during the closing phases of the American Revolution and shortly thereafter. A deadly hatred existed between the men who fought for American independence and these Florida settlers. These men of East Florida often raided the isolated and thinly settled districts of Georgia in marauding bands which killed, plundered, stole slaves, and committed atrocities against the early Georgians. They often reached up as far as Screven County in these raids and Zoath Spooner was famed for his ability to track and destroy them. He mostly traveled on foot in these actions against the "Florida Scouts" and was noted for his ability to cover great distances in stealth and silence at an "Indian Lope" or trot. There was one incident in which Zoath tracked seven "Florida Scout" for almost a hundred miles in this manner and at opportune times, destroyed them one by one. From this description, one might picture Zoath as being the same type frontiersman and pioneer as Daniel Boone, Davy Crockett, and Jim Bowie. These accounts may not be entirely accurate, but Zoath must surely have been a hearty individual to have survived as long and as well as he did in the times in which he lived.

Notes for Cora Alabama Spooner:

Cora was quite the character. I suppose being married four times (and only 1 died on her) is probably an indication. She ran a small grocery store on the southeast corner of the intersection of Lafayette and Cherry streets in Dothan as a way to provide for her family after she left the country. After she and her last husband split up, she re-took the name Dudley because her last child (my mother) Johnnie B. was a Dudley and "Mama" didn't want her growing up with a different last name. Our fondest story about Mama is after "professional" wrestling came to television, she would "watch" it by turning her chair with her back to the TV and grabbing an occasional glance because it was too violent to watch the other way. She always had a pecan pie for me when I was growing up!

He and Cora had 2 children, my mother Johnnie B. and an infant son that died shortly after birth. After divorcing Cora, John T. moved to Marianna, Florida and married Claudia Bell Kingry in 1932. They had two children (Bennie Joe and Mary Sue). John T. died in Marianna, Jackson County, Florida 05 Aug 1977 at 84 years of age.
